ABOUT

Hi there, I'm Natalia! My work is heavily inspired by the neons and high contrast of the 80's, the Pop Art movement, and sci-fi—hence my online pseudonym "CYBERNATIC"! I went to high school at the lovely Sumner Academy of Arts & Science, starting off studying business finance but switching gears into Graphic Design when I decided to attend Park University. In my free time for as long as I can remember, I've loved to draw, so all of my work has an illustrative touch that I love to lean into. My favorite design projects to work on are identity systems and packaging!
